

Overcomers
Week 4 - Thyatira: Under Attack and Unaware
Sunday, March 24, 2019
Pastor Scott Savage

Vulnerable to deception...

Thyatira:

Big Idea: Everyone's _____. And if you think you aren't, you're probably being _____.

Passage: Revelation 2:18-29

5 Warnings About Compromising Your Beliefs:

1. Never _____ Jesus for the sake of your _____. (2:18)
2. Don't forget - you can do good and still have _____. (2:19)
3. What is _____ by culture is often _____ by Jesus. (2:20-23, 1 Kings 16:31-33, Acts 15:19-20)
4. Jesus isn't in the business of adding _____. (2:24-25, Matt. 11:28-30)
5. _____ is our reward. (2:26-29)

Overcomers
Week 4 - Thyatira: Under Attack and Unaware
Sunday, March 24, 2019
Pastor Scott Savage

Vulnerable to deception...

Thyatira:

Big Idea: Everyone's _____. And if you think you aren't, you're probably being _____.

Passage: Revelation 2:18-29

5 Warnings About Compromising Your Beliefs:

1. Never _____ Jesus for the sake of your _____. (2:18)
2. Don't forget - you can do good and still have _____. (2:19)
3. What is _____ by culture is often _____ by Jesus. (2:20-23, 1 Kings 16:31-33, Acts 15:19-20)
4. Jesus isn't in the business of adding _____. (2:24-25, Matt. 11:28-30)
5. _____ is our reward. (2:26-29)

Next Steps:

1. Embrace the _____ Jesus.
2. _____ your life for signs of doctrinal and moral compromise.
3. Ask yourself, "Is Jesus _____ for me?"

Discussion Questions:

- Have you ever bought into a hoax or believed something you later learned was untrue? Share the story with your group.
- What about Jesus makes you uncomfortable? How have you been dealing with that discomfort? Have you been editing Jesus?
- In reflecting on Revelation 2:20-23, Pastor Scott said "what is accepted by culture is often rejected by Jesus." Why is this truth so important?
- When Pastor Scott shared about tolerance, what happened inside of your heart? Did a spirit of pride rise up or a spirit of humility? Did you look in the mirror at yourself or out a window at others?
- In the second next step, Pastor Scott challenged us to scrutinize our lives. Where have you been tolerating moral or doctrinal compromise in your own life?
- When you think about heaven, what rewards do you get excited about?
- In his message, Pastor Scott challenged us to ask a question, "is Jesus enough for you?" In light of the previous question about rewards, how did you answer that question?
- How did God speak to you through Revelation 2:18-29 and today's message? What is your next step based upon what you read and heard?

If you are interested in an electronic version of the sermon notes, please go to prescottcornerstone.com and click on our Archive menu. Here you will find the most recent sermon notes.

Next Steps:

1. Embrace the _____ Jesus.
2. _____ your life for signs of doctrinal and moral compromise.
3. Ask yourself, "Is Jesus _____ for me?"

Discussion Questions:

- Have you ever bought into a hoax or believed something you later learned was untrue? Share the story with your group.
- What about Jesus makes you uncomfortable? How have you been dealing with that discomfort? Have you been editing Jesus?
- In reflecting on Revelation 2:20-23, Pastor Scott said "what is accepted by culture is often rejected by Jesus." Why is this truth so important?
- When Pastor Scott shared about tolerance, what happened inside of your heart? Did a spirit of pride rise up or a spirit of humility? Did you look in the mirror at yourself or out a window at others?
- In the second next step, Pastor Scott challenged us to scrutinize our lives. Where have you been tolerating moral or doctrinal compromise in your own life?
- When you think about heaven, what rewards do you get excited about?
- In his message, Pastor Scott challenged us to ask a question, "is Jesus enough for you?" In light of the previous question about rewards, how did you answer that question?
- How did God speak to you through Revelation 2:18-29 and today's message? What is your next step based upon what you read and heard?

If you are interested in an electronic version of the sermon notes, please go to prescottcornerstone.com and click on our Archive menu. Here you will find the most recent sermon notes.